

NanotechItaly 2011

NETWORKING EVENT

23-24-25 November 2011, Venice-Mestre

A special Networking Event will be organized, with the support of APRE, Agency for the Promotion of European Research, in the framework of the Conference, from Wednesday 23th of November to Friday 25th November.

The Networking Event will offer the possibility to businessmen, entrepreneurs, researchers and innovators to actively establish contacts during face-to-face meetings. They will make possible sharing and discussing ideas with other highly qualified people, promoting knowledge and exchange of information among participants, evaluating collaboration opportunities at the national and international level, meeting potential business or project partners.

The aim of the pre-arranged bilateral meetings is to facilitate business development, accelerate innovation and initiate research projects.

APRE, Agency for the Promotion of European Research, responsible for the matchmaking, will collect information from participants prior to the event through the ad-hoc online registration form. This information will include technologies, products and services of the participants and will serve to identify potential cooperation partners with complementary know-how.

The bilateral meetings are then arranged by the organization and will take place during the NanotechItaly 2011 Conference.

From this moment up to November, 9th, it is possible to register to the Networking Event of NanotechItaly2011.

The participation is free of charge for the NanotechItaly 2011 Conference participants.
